Hemingway’s Michigan

This tour, its site markers and brochure are possible thanks to the generous support of the following partners:

1. Pere Marquette Railroad Station—100 Depot St. (Little Traverse Historical Museum)
2. Grand Rapids & Indiana Railroad Station—Corner of Bay St. and Lewis St. (Pennsylvania Plaza Offices)
3. The Perry Hotel—100 Lewis St.
4. The Annex—432 East Lake St. (City Park Grill)
5. McCarthy’s Barber Shop—309 Howard St.
6. Jesperson’s Restaurant—312 Howard St.
8. Potter’s Rooming House—602 State St. (This is a private residence and not open to the public.)

WALLOON LAKE, 49796

Hemingway Historical Marker—Walloonal Village, Mellorose Township Park on Walloon Lake

VILLAGE OF HORTON BAY, 49712

Walloonal Lake Public Access & Boat Launch—Go SE of Horton Bay on the Boyne City-Charlevoix Rd. for approximately one mile; turn (due east) on to Sumner Rd. and follow it to the end. Approx. 2.25 mi.

Pinehurst and Shangri-La—5738 Lake St., (first two dwellings on the east side of Lake St. as it descends down the road to the bay on Lake Charlevoix)

Lake Charlevoix Public Access Site & Boat Launch—At the end of Lake St. down from Pinehurst and Shangri-La.

Horton Bay General Store—5115 Boyne City Rd. (on the Charlevoix-Boyne City Rd., village of Horton Bay)

Horton Creek—Approximately 5405 Boyne City Rd.

BAY VIEW ASSOCIATION, 49770

Evelyn Hall—On the campus of the Bay View Assoc.

EH = No Hemingway Tour marker at this site.
In 1898, Ernest Hemingway’s parents fell in love with Northern Michigan. They built a summer cottage on Walloon Lake, and called it Windemere. Ernest Hemingway would visit Northern Michigan every summer from his birth year, 1899, until he was married at Horton Bay in 1921.

Hemingway went on to write a series of short stories based in Northern Michigan, featuring a character named Nick Adams. His first novel, “The Torrents of Spring,” was set in Petoskey.

This tour features locations associated with Ernest Hemingway and with those Michigan stories.

See back panel for Map Locations identification. For more detailed information and map locations visit www.MIHemingwayTour.org